SKELLY AND LOY WELCOMES ENVIRONMENTAL TECHNICIAN AMY CLEGG TO ITS GEO-ENVIRONMENTAL STAFF

HARRISBURG, PA - July 10, 2018 - Skelly and Loy welcomes Amy N. Clegg to its Geo-Environmental Services Group.

Ms. Clegg is an Environmental Technician, assisting with site assessments and inspections, emergency response calls, etc. She is currently working on the Pittsburgh Public Schools AHERA project.

Ms. Clegg earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Geology - Environmental Track with a minor in Applied Statistics and Psychology from the Indiana University of Pennsylvania (IUP). While at IUP, she gained some interesting research experience, performing rock fabric characterization through petrography on oriented samples of metamorphic rock from the Taiwan mountain belt. Amy also studied the stratigraphy and geological makeup of the West Coast where a wide range of field work was completed through Colorado into the Cleveland Lloyd Dinosaur Quarry in Utah. She was a part-time Teaching Assistant at IUP Geoscience during the academic year.

Amy is a member of the Geological Society of America.

Now in its 49th year, Skelly and Loy is an engineering-environmental consulting firm serving public and private sector clients from six Mid-Atlantic offices. Our services include civil, environmental, and mining engineering and permitting activities; National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) compliance studies; natural resource management and protection; hazardous waste and industrial hygiene studies and remediation planning; and cultural resource studies and documentation.
